

BEEF... It's What's For

on Saturday, August 30th!

Attention Washington Cattlemen!

The Washington State Beef Commission is once again the title sponsor of the Cougar Gridiron Classic - Presented By Washington's Beef Producers. That means that beef producers are invited to help serve samples of "Cougar Cowboy Beef & Black Bean Chili" to Coug fans as they enter the game. This year we will be serving from three separate locations and plan to reach even more beef-loving Coug fans!

Free Game Tickets

As part of the sponsorship, we have reserved a special seating section at the game just for beef producers willing to help serve chili and promote our beef industry. There are a limited number of free tickets reserved for the Washington cattle producers, on a first-come, first-served basis. Reserve your ticket immediately by calling the WSBC at 206-444-2902 or e-mail us at jmadill@wabeef.org! Ticket order deadline is August 20, 2008.

Join the Beef It's What's For Cougars Convoy!

Want to save on the steep price of gas, battling Seattle-area traffic, and the headache of parking? Just hop on the Beef It's What's For Cougars Convoy! The WSBC has arranged for a bus to transport producers from Ellensburg to Seattle. You'll board at the Washington Cattlemen's Association office and be whisked over the pass to the Qwest Field front gate! On board you'll enjoy the company of your fellow producers and have the chance at a few exciting Cougar prizes! Bus tickets are $25 per person, and includes refreshments to and from the game. Bus space is limited. To purchase your bus tickets, contact the WSBC or use the form below.

Game Day Schedule

8:00am	Bus departs WCA office in Ellensburg
10:00am	Check in at the Beef It's What's For Dinner tent at the North Entrance to Qwest Field
10:30am	Begin serving "Cougar Cowboy Beef & Black Bean Chili"
12:30pm	Kickoff - Enjoy the game!
